

Landscape Designer Joins The Planning Center

Tucson, AZ.
October 27

Daniel Bradshaw has joined The Planning Center as a landscape designer. His work at The Planning Center includes site design, irrigation and landscape design, master planning, re-zonings, specific plans, construction documents and site imagery.

Bradshaw received a master's degree in landscape architecture from the University of Arizona and a bachelor's degree in business management from Brigham Young University - Idaho.

Bradshaw has experience in landscape design and construction. As a student in the master of landscape architecture program at the UA, he collaborated with the National Parks Service on the development of the Fort Davis National Historic Site Master Plan; developed a comprehensive revitalization plan for the historic town of Fronteras, Sonora, Mexico; was a member of the Biosphere 2 Design Team, and created a vision for the extension and redevelopment of the UMC Campus Extension.

Established in 1975, The Planning Center is a private consulting firm that provides a variety of multidisciplinary planning services including planning, economic market analysis, geospatial services and landscape architecture.
